JK Global Opportunities Fund

November 2021

USD Class -2.44%, GBP Class -2.42%, YEN Class -2.41%, EUR Class -2.41% in November.

The Fund fell -2.44% (USD Class, net of fees) in November, as the emergence of the 'Omicron' variant led to some aggressive risk-off moves in markets towards the end of the month. Equities fell, and safe havens like Bonds and the YEN rose, hurting our short positions in them. Our China Internet Basket was the biggest drag on the equity book, as disappointing earnings/guidance from the likes of Alibaba raised concerns about the severity of new regulations and general economic slowdown in China. Bright spots came from Nvidia and Apple, which have been gaining recognition for their potential to capitalise on the 'Metaverse' theme, and our short position in Sterling also added value.

It is too early to draw any concrete conclusions about the Omicron variant, but the consensus is embracing the idea of a highly transmissible but less severe variant, with vaccine efficacy dropping but not so much as to drive severe and long-lasting re-tightening of restrictions ('Delta 2.0'). Whilst this is yet to be seen, we own companies that have already proved their resiliency throughout this pandemic, so feel the portfolio is reasonably positioned for all but the worst-case scenarios.

In brighter news, Beijing seems to be shifting gears from marginal easing to broader stimulus measures. The Sixth Plenum (8-11 November) was the turning point, with the PBoC and central authorities emphasising sector-specific easing measures and providing broader support to the Chinese economy. Indeed, the PBoC has just cut the Reserve Requirement Ratio (RRR) by 50bps, and noises from the Politburo meeting last week gave a clear signal on supporting the property sector and increasing fiscal spending. For the property sector, this is likely to entail local government, SOE and bank support, the expansion of new funding channels (interbank lending and ABS), and involvement in the restructuring of Evergrande.

Whilst the worst funding contraction for developers in this cycle is almost over, the property sector is by no means out of the woods just yet. The government will likely maintain the "two red lines" policy for banks and "three red lines" policy for developers, which means the sector will remain a drag on activity with more defaults expected from weaker developers. With a core economic driver stalling, and a desire to maintain stability ahead of the 20th Party Congress next year, Beijing is putting the onus on infrastructure spending and a consumption recovery to power 2022 growth, with a focus on 'New Economy' sectors. We expect this to lead to a record high special-purpose local government bond quota for 2022 in the region of RMB 4trn — which will be frontloaded ahead of the March National People's Congress (NPC) — and means fiscal stimulus should be sufficient for growth to bottom out in Q1.

With 'New Economy' infrastructure and consumption becoming the key growth engines under Beijing's 'common prosperity' drive, we expect this to alleviate pressure on our China tech holdings next year. Most of these stocks are now at record-low valuations and present one of the best risk-reward opportunities in global markets at the moment.

JK Global Opportunities Fund is a weekly dealing UCITS fund. It can be held by ISA's, SIPP's, Pensions, Charities, Family Offices, Endowments, as a direct holding or through a Private Wealth Manager. All classes have UK Reporting Status.
